

MANY COMMITTEES APPOINTED BY D. A. R.

Meeting Chickamauga Chapter Marked by Unusual Activity Along Patriotic Lines.

The meeting of the Chickamauga chapter, D. A. R., held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. P. A. Branner was marked by the appointment of several important committees, including a new program committee, a library bond committee and a committee on resolutions, and the appointment of delegates to the next continental congress, to be held in Washington.

Mrs. Franklin Harris presided. Other new officers elected were Mrs. J. H. Cantrell, second vice-regent, and Mrs. W. B. Swamy, chaplain. Mr. T. H. Payne was elected delegate to the continental congress. The alternates chosen were Mrs. W. H. Dayton, Mrs. H. Clay Evans, Mrs. A. W. Chambliss, Mrs. M. H. Clift, Mrs. Xenophon Wheeler, Mrs. J. D. Kelso and Mrs. Francis Fort Brown.

Mrs. Charles R. Hyde, Mrs. M. H. Clift and Mrs. H. H. Embrey were appointed a committee on war relief work.

Mrs. Charles R. Hyde read an original poem, "The Soldier's Passes," and prayed the members for a greater show of respect when the funeral procession of a soldier is passing.

Resolutions on the death of Mrs. Nathaniel Doster, of Pulaski, the late state regent, were adopted.

A letter was read from the national society asking for the distribution of jelly among sick soldiers in base hospitals. No action was taken, however, owing to the work being so well covered by the service league and other organizations.

Each member of the chapter subscribed $1 to the third liberty bond campaign, Mesdames J. D. Kelso, William Elliott and Eugene Thomason being appointed committee in charge.

It was announced that a member of the order, desiring her name withheld, had contributed 100 silk flags to be placed upon the caissons of dead soldiers.

It was requested that the treasurer, Mrs. Carrie Pickens, that annual dues be paid before Feb. 25.

The program for the day included the reading of a paper on "The Philippine Islands" by Mrs. Paul Shepherd.

Mrs. Jessa Holtschaw, who has visited the islands, gave an account of her trip.

Refreshments were served at the noon hour, when a silent prayer was offered by the chapter.

It was announced that the afghan made by members of Chickamauga chapter, D. A. R., had been completed and will be sent to base hospital in France.

The afghan is made of knitted twelve-inch blocks, the central of red, white and blue bearing the letters "D. A. R."

RETURN OF THE PRINCESS GOWN

(By Betty Brown.)

It has been a number of years since this snug and slender silhouette charmed our eyes—but do you recognize our old friend, the princess gown? Here is the latest version of that delightful but exacting mode, combining in a delectable manner the smooth-fitting tunic with a new and becoming fullness pleated lightly over the hips.

The under-bodice is of the same heavy broadcloth as the tunic and is differentiated by a close braiding in black silk—repeated in groups on the tunic. The collar has the unmistakable French touch, rather loose, and wide-winged, above a neatly-fitting band.

under the auspices of the County Parent-Teachers' association and in celebration of the Child Welfare day set apart by the National Congress of Mothers.

He is a child specialist of New York of national reputation, has been in charge of a large baby hospital at Albany, N. Y., and has also been associated with Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau in Washington.

Members of the local organization express their delight at securing a man of Maj. Shaw's ability as a speaker in Chattanooga.

Miss Katherine Cohn and Miss Mary Sussdorf, wearing crepe paper frocks on which were written in large letters "asbestos." As the show was called, the two moved back from the center of the stage, and as each scene was concluded moved back to the center. The show was laughable and one "hit" of the entertainment.

ONLY MORALLY FIT GET INTO WAR SERVICE

Boys Arrested on Larceny Charges Cannot Be Accepted by Marines or Navy.

"We do not accept criminals, even though they are brilliant, thoughtful boys, in either the navy or the marine corps," was the statement of Corporal O. H. Hill, recruiting officer for the marines, and A. Biel, chief boatswain's mate, recruiting officer for the navy, in talking of the action of Squire Parks in holding up the cases against Will Teague and Will Denton, two boys charged, jointly with Martin McAllister, of stealing tobacco while on a hobo trip.

It seems that McAllister had already enlisted in the marines and it was suggested that the other boys be given the privilege, and, at the request of their attorney, Squire Parks did not pass judgment on them, but took the cases under advisement to await developments.

When Corporal Hill read of the case he at once notified McAllister that he would be rejected. He had already been examined and accepted but for some reason Corporal Hill said he could not explain, he had not been sent to the training station, so he was at once told that he could not go.

McAllister had previously applied for admission to the navy but Officer Biel turned him down and it was then he went to the marine recruiting office.

The other boys have not applied for admission to either the navy or marines and, according to the officer, they need not do so, for they will not be accepted.

The recruiting officers say that they have enlisted a number of boys belonging to the best families of the city and a boy must not only be physically fit but he must be morally fit before he is accepted in either branch of the service.
